Mandatory Professional Licensure Disclosure

Effective July 1, 2024, federal regulation requires institutions of higher education to make a determination whether a Title IV eligible academic program that leads to professional licensure or certification meets the educational requirements for licensure/certification in the U.S. State where the institution is located and the U.S. States where "distance education" students are located at the time of initial enrollment in the program, as well as U.S. States where the program is advertised as meeting such requirements, and if applicable, the U.S. State where students attest they intend to be licensed/certified.

Per U.S. Federal Regulations, §668.14 and §668.43, and in compliance with the State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (SARA), SARA Policy Manual Version 25.2 SUNY Corning Community College (SUNY CCC) provides the following disclosure related to the educational requirements for professional licensure and certification.[1]

New York State prides itself in the high quality of its licensed and certified professionals. For the protection of citizens, each license and certificate has requirements that individuals must meet to be licensed or certified in New York State. In accordance and for its role in protecting the public, SUNY's academic programs leading to licensure or certification are carefully designed to meet and exceed these NYS requirements. Other states frequently have their own requirements, so if your goal is to practice your chosen profession in another state, this professional licensure disclosure will help you check to see what that state requires.

This disclosure is strictly limited to SUNY CCC's determination of whether its educational program, Associate in Applied Science in Nursing, if successfully completed, would be sufficient to meet the educational licensure requirements in a state for nursing practice.[2] SUNY CCC cannot provide verification of an individual's ability to meet licensure requirements unrelated to its educational programming. Such individual determinations are made by state licensing boards, and are fact-specific determinations.

Through a good faith effort, and for the purpose of complying with the federal regulation, SUNY CCC has determined that the Associate in Applied Science in Nursing program meets the educational requirements for licensure/certification in New York State and in the listed U.S. States and Territories below. However, it is important to note that SUNY CCC is not the licensure/certification authority in these U.S. States and cannot assess whether an individual candidate will be issued a license/certificate in these U.S. States.

This disclosure does not provide any guarantee that any particular state licensure or certification entity will approve or deny your application. Furthermore, this disclosure does not account for changes in state law or regulation that may affect your application for licensure and occur after this disclosure has been made. Enrolled students and prospective students are strongly encouraged to contact their state's licensure entity to review all licensure and certification requirements imposed by their state(s) of choice.

[1] The terms related to advance practice nursing, including licensure and certification, among others, vary by state and your state may use different terms.

[2] This determination is based on the educational and curricular requirements of each state for licensure (i.e., excluding any special, temporary licensure that may be granted) and does not imply that other requirements for licensure do not exist or have been determined to have been met by this program or that any necessary approvals for clinical placements have been secured at the time of enrollment. An unencumbered RN license in the state of intended practice is a requirement of entry and continuation in the program. Each student should verify their particular situation with their intended state's licensing entity.

SUNY CCC has designed an educational program curriculum for an Associate in Applied Science in Nursing that if successfully completed is sufficient to meet the licensure requirements for a Registered Nurse license in the following states listed below.

SUNY CCC has designed an educational program curriculum for an Associate in Applied Science in Nursing, and currently has made no determination that the curriculum is insufficient to meet the licensure requirements for nursing practice in any of the other 49 states and territories.

See list below regarding uniform licensure requirements, registered nurse licensure in New York, and registered nurse licensure requirements outside of New York.
